- Complete the appropriate insurance tax registration form in full via the BOP. You can find the forms for insurance and fire protection tax in the BOP under: Forms and Services/All Forms/Tax National/Insurance and Fire Tax Registration Form
- Submit the application.
- Transfer the self-calculated tax amount by the due date or it will be collected from your account if a SEPA mandate has been issued.

Please note:

- You need a tax number for the tax return.
- You must register for the BOP for electronic tax registration in the BOP. To do this, fill out the form "Application for (new) authorization/registration for electronic transmission of insurance tax and/or fire protection tax registration" and complete the registration.
- As an alternative to registering in the BOP, you can use an existing Elster certificate.
- Upon request, the Federal Central Tax Office (BZSt) can waive electronic transmission to avoid undue hardship. If the BZSt agrees to such an application, you can declare the tax using an officially prescribed form. You can find the form on the BZSt website in the "Insurance tax and fire protection tax" section.

Bearbeitungsdauer

Your tax return is deemed to be a tax assessment upon receipt by the BZSt and is subject to review. If the tax return leads to a reduction in the tax payable to date or to a tax refund, this is only deemed to be a tax assessment if the BZSt agrees. The approval does not require any form.
