Teaser	As a recognized institution of political education, you can apply for subsidies for your events under certain conditions.
Volltext	For organisations that have their own training centre, the funding amount is usually up to EUR 50.00 per programme day and per participant. If your organisation does not have its own educational institution, you can receive up to EUR 40.00. The conditions for grants are set out in the "Guidelines for the Recognition and Promotion of Political Education Events by the Federal Agency for Civic Education (BpB)" (Funding Guidelines). A prerequisite for funding is that you as an organisation have successfully passed the BpB's recognition procedure. As a so-called "recognised sponsor", you then submit an annual application for the following year. After a positive review of this application, the BpB will determine an expected annual quota (maximum annual funding amount) for you. Up to the amount of your annual quota, you will then receive grants on application for individual, delimited projects or events (project funding). The subsidies, known as grants, cover part of your expenses. As a rule, your own contributions to the event (e.g. participation fees, donations or the work of your full-time staff) should amount to at least 15 percent of the actual expenses. You are not entitled to funding or individual grants.
