Teaser	The Künstlersozialkasse (KSK) can only pay you the correct subsidy if it knows how high your contributions for private or voluntary statutory health and long-term care insurance are. You should therefore inform the KSK of any changes to your contributions.
Volltext	As a self-employed artist or journalist, you are entitled to a subsidy from the Künstlersozialkasse under certain conditions. The subsidies relate to the contributions for your private or voluntary statutory health and long-term care insurance. You may be entitled to these subsidies if you: • are subject to compulsory insurance via the Künstlersozialkasse and • are exempt from the statutory health and long-term care insurance obligation or • do not have access to statutory insurance. The amount of your subsidy depends, among other things, on the amount of your contributions to your • private or

	• voluntary statutory health and long-term care insurance. The insurance companies determine the amount of the contributions. The Künstlersozialkasse needs up-to-date information about your contributions to these insurances. Otherwise, the Künstlersozialkasse may calculate the amount of your provisional subsidy incorrectly. When the Künstlersozialkasse issues its final annual statement of your subsidy, there may be additional payments or reclaims. By reporting the current details, you can avoid particularly high reclaims or additional payments.
Erforderliche Unterlagen	You must submit the following documents: • Copy of the notification of the new contribution amount of your private or voluntary statutory health and long-term care insurance. You will receive the notification from the respective insurance company.
Voraussetzungen	• You are currently entitled to a subsidy from the Künstlersozialkasse. • The contributions for your private or voluntary statutory insurance have changed.
Kosten	There are no costs.
Verfahrensablauf	If the contributions to your private or voluntary statutory health or long-term care insurance change, you will receive a corresponding letter from your insurance company. You can notify the Künstlersozialkasse of your changed contributions online or by post. Online notification: • Call up the online form on the federal portal verwaltung.bund.de. This will guide you step by step through the necessary information, which you can enter electronically.
