Teaser	If you want to carry out tests or issue certificates in accordance with the Chemicals Climate Protection Ordinance, you must be recognised by the competent authority.
Volltext	For certain work on e.g. refrigeration or air conditioning systems, certificates of competence are required for the personnel carrying out the work. These certificates are issued after passing the exam. If you want to carry out such tests or issue certificates, you need recognition from the competent authority. This applies to the whole of Germany. On the other hand, no operational certification is required for activities on mobile systems, such as refrigerated vehicles. Which fluorinated greenhouse gases (F-gases) are referred to is set out in Annexes I and II of Regulation (EU) 517/2014 on certain fluorinated greenhouse gases (F-Gas Regulation).
Erforderliche Unterlagen	Information on the teachers, the course of the examination or the content of the certificates must be submitted. After queries from the competent authority, further documents may have to be provided. • training documents of the future lecturers, • Contents of the course, • timetable for the implementation of the course, • if applicable, examination regulations, • where applicable, procedural rules for the issue of certificates of competence; • List of equipment used in training, and • if necessary, sample of an examination exam, questionnaire. • completed application for company certification • You must enclose the following documents with your application for company certification: Copies of the certificates of competence for personnel covering the activities in question (certificate of competence in accordance with Section 5 (2) of the Chemicals Climate Protection Ordinance)
