subsequent immigration of the spouse to foreigners

- Residence permit for the person joining the country can be extended if its validity expires in the near future and the marital cohabitation/civil partnership continues.

- The residence permit for the person joining the family is extended for the period of validity of the family member's residence permit in Germany.

- In principle, the same conditions apply to the extension of the residence permit as to the grant.

- The extension must be applied for no later than eight weeks before the expiry of the time limit.

- The extension is excluded if the extension has already been excluded by the Foreigners' Registration Office when it was granted or the last extension.

- Insofar as the obligation to attend an integration course was pronounced when the residence permit was issued, it must be proven that the obligation has been complied with. If the integration course has not yet been completed, the Foreigners' Registration Office may refuse the extension or extend the residence permit only for one year until the course has been successfully completed or proof has been provided that the integration into social life has taken place elsewhere.

- Depending on the immigration authority and concerns, the application is possible via the Internet or only in person.

- Renewal fees apply. The timing and form of payment vary depending on the authority
