division agreement of all co-owners in accordance with the Condominium Act is required. - A division according to the You can make the Condominium Act by means of a notarized declaration if you are the sole owner of a property. With the declaration that you submit to the land registry, you divide the ownership of the property (so-called declaration of division). You combine each share with the ownership (special property; also called room ownership) of an existing or future apartment. In addition, you also assign each share a fractional co-ownership share in the property.
- The entry in the land register takes place by creating the housing land registers by the responsible land registry. This means that a separate, special land register sheet is created for each apartment. As a result, a condominium can be sold, encumbered with mortgages or other rights or inherited like any other property. The previous land register sheet for the property is closed.
