Teaser	As an insured person, you are entitled to hospital treatment. The treatment is carried out on a full inpatient basis if the treatment goal cannot be achieved by partial, pre- or post-inpatient or outpatient treatment, including home nursing.
Volltext	Insured persons are entitled to treatment in an approved hospital. The service includes, in particular, medical treatment, nursing, supply of medicines, remedies and aids as well as accommodation and meals. Hospital treatment also includes discharge management to help you ensure continued care after hospital discharge. For this purpose, hospital doctors can prescribe medicines and, for a period of up to seven days, bandages, remedies and aids and home nursing care, as well as determine the incapacity for work.
Erforderliche Unterlagen	If there is no emergency, you need a hospital admission from your attending physician (general practitioner or specialist) in order to be admitted to hospital.
Voraussetzungen	In inpatient hospital treatment, the principle of "outpatient before inpatient" applies. Insured persons are therefore only entitled to full inpatient treatment in an approved hospital if the treatment objective cannot be achieved by partial, pre- or post-inpatient or outpatient treatment, including home nursing.
Kosten	Insured persons who have reached the age of 18 pay 10 euros to the hospital within one calendar year for a maximum of 28 days per calendar day from the start of full inpatient hospital treatment. If insured persons choose a hospital other than one specified in the medical admission without compelling reason, they
