Volltext	If, as a supplier, you have a valid framework agreement with the Hessian state administration, you can provide a product catalogue of supplies and services for retrieval from the framework agreement. As a supplier, you will be commissioned to provide and fill the product catalogue after a framework agreement has been awarded by the Hessian state administration. The product catalogue is the central medium with which you present your supplies and services. Only data for the supplies and services contained in your framework agreement will be accepted. If necessary, the electronic product catalogue can be exported from an existing ordering system. You will be instructed to provide the product catalog via the supplier cockpit. The provision of your product catalog can be done via the supplier cockpit. The Supplier Cockpit is a central platform for all suppliers who have concluded a framework agreement with the Hessian state administration. Here you have an overview of all your framework agreements and can make your product catalogs available in a uniform format via a central access. In this way, the Supplier Cockpit facilitates the cooperation between suppliers and the departments of the Hessian state administration. In the context of permissible price changes and/or product changes, you can also make the updated catalogs or data available via the supplier
