Teaser	If you wish to transfer the mining permit to a third party, you require the consent of the competent authority.
Volltext	A mining permit allows you to explore for one or more mineral resources. The mining permit covers so-called non-mining mineral resources that are of particular economic importance. These include energy resources such as hard coal and lignite or crude oil and natural gas, but also metals, salts, geothermal energy and lithium. If you or your company have a mining permit for the exploration of mineral resources, you can transfer this to third parties under certain conditions. To do so, you need the written consent of the competent authority.
