Volltext	As a German citizen, you can apply for child benefit if you are • have your residence or habitual abode in Germany • you live abroad, but are subject to unlimited income tax liability in Germany. If you do not live in Germany and are not subject to unlimited income tax liability here, you can apply for child benefit under the Federal Child Benefit Act under certain conditions. • As a foreign national, you can apply for child benefit if you • reside in Germany and have a valid settlement permit or certain other residence titles (for details regarding residence titles, please contact the family benefits office). • reside and/or work in Germany as a citizen of the EU, EEA or Switzerland. In cross-border cases, EU law determines which state is responsible for child benefits. This is the case if the family has a connection to several EU states through residence or employment. • you are a legally recognized refugee or person entitled to asylum.
