Teaser	You can find out how the result of a European election is determined here.
Volltext	When the election is over, the election committee determines how many votes the respective list election proposal has received. The district election committee or city election committee then determines how many votes the respective list election proposals received within the district or independent city. These election committees can also review the findings of the election committees. As the next instance, the state election committee determines the votes for the election proposals on a state-specific basis. It may correct the results of the electoral boards and district and city
