	period and services in the event of breastfeeding difficulties or feeding problems for the child.
	The costs are covered by health insurance. Midwife assistance can be used by any woman with statutory health insurance.
	If you have private health insurance, you should contact your health insurance provider in advance to clarify whether the costs will be covered.
	What services are covered by health insurance?
	Midwifery assistance is provided by a state-certified midwife. The services include the following
	During pregnancy:
	 Antenatal care Counseling services Help with pregnancy complaints or labor pains Birth preparation in a group
	During the birth: birth support in hospital, in a birthing center or during a birth at home
	In the postpartum and breastfeeding period:
	• Postpartum care (daily home visit by a midwife until the 10th day after delivery, then up to 16 times within 12 weeks of the birth if required without a doctor's order) Postnatal gymnastics in a group, the course must be started by the 4th month after the birth and completed by the 9th month after the birth Breastfeeding advice (until the end of the breastfeeding period)
	Beyond the breastfeeding period:
	 Help with the child's feeding problems (up to 9 months of age) Support in special life situations (e.g. in the event of adoption or if the mother is ill)
