Teaser	Would you like to work in Germany as a person responsible for breeding work? To do so, you must have your foreign professional qualification recognized as equivalent to a corresponding German qualification.
Volltext	Working as a person responsible for breeding work is regulated in Germany. This means that in order to work as a person responsible for breeding work in Germany, you must provide proof of a certain qualification. Even if you have a professional qualification from abroad, you can work in Germany as a person responsible for breeding work under certain conditions. To do this, you must have your foreign professional qualification recognized. The procedure for recognition is called: equivalence assessment. During the equivalence assessment, the competent authority compares your professional qualification with a corresponding German qualification and checks the equivalence.

You can also apply for the procedure from abroad.

Erforderliche Unterlagen

- Application form from the competent authority
- Proof of identity (identity card or passport)
- Marriage certificate (if your name has changed due to marriage)
- Curriculum vitae
- Proof of your professional qualifications (e.g. certificates, professional certificate)
- Proof of training
- Proof of your relevant professional experience
- Proof of other relevant knowledge
- Have you already submitted an application for recognition? If so, please state the body to which you submitted the application.
- Perhaps: You come from a third country and do not yet live or work in the EU, the EEA or Switzerland? Then you must provide proof: You want to work in the profession in Germany. Proof includes, for example, applications for a job, invitations to job interviews, personal statement

If your documents are not in German, you must submit German translations of your documents. The translations must be made by translators who are publicly appointed or authorized.

Voraussetzungen

- Your professional qualification is equivalent to a German qualification that entitles you to work as a person responsible for breeding work.
- You are authorized to work in the field of animal breeding in your country of origin.
- You want to work in Germany as a person responsible for breeding work.

Kosten

The costs generally depend on the time and effort required for processing.

Additional costs may also be incurred (e.g. for translations or notarizations). These costs vary from case, your foreign professional qualification will not be recognized. You will then not be allowed to work as a person responsible for breeding work. However, the competent authority will tell you the main differences and why you cannot compensate for the main differences with your professional experience.

In most cases, you can take a compensatory measure. This will allow you to compensate for the main differences.

**Compensatory measures****

There are various compensatory measures:

- Adaptation course: The adaptation course lasts a maximum of three years.
- Aptitude test: The aptitude test examines the areas in which significant differences have been identified.

You can usually choose between an adaptation period or an aptitude test. In some cases, the competent body will decide which compensatory measure you need to take. The competent body will advise you on this.

If you successfully complete the compensation measure and meet all other requirements, you will be allowed to work as a person responsible for breeding work in Germany.

Bearbeitungsdauer

3 Monat(e)

The responsible office will inform you if any documents are missing. The procedure starts when the documents are complete. The procedure takes a maximum of 3 months.

Frist

There is no deadline.
