Voraussetzungen

The following minimum requirements apply for discretionary naturalization:

- You must have been living legally in Germany for 5 years, The required period of residence can be shortened under certain circumstances, for example if your spouse, registered partner or underage children are also naturalized.
- Their identity and nationality must be clarified.
- You are capable of acting or are legally represented. In the naturalization procedure, you are generally capable of acting if you have reached the age of 16.
- You have a permanent right of residence at the time of naturalization, for example: a settlement permit, or another permanent residence permit. A residence permit for the purpose of studying, for example, is not suitable for naturalization.
- You can support yourself and your dependent family members without receiving certain public benefits. For reasons of public interest or to avoid particular hardship, the requirement to be able to support yourself may be waived.
- You have not been convicted of a criminal offense. If you are currently under investigation on suspicion of a criminal offence, the citizenship authority will suspend the naturalization procedure until the proceedings have been concluded.
- You have sufficient knowledge of the German language, at least at level B1. This does not apply, for example, if you are unable to meet this requirement due to a physical, mental or psychological illness or disability or due to age. For underage children who have not yet reached the age of 16, age-appropriate language development is sufficient.
- They have civic knowledge. You do not have to provide proof of civic knowledge if you are unable to do so due to a physical, mental or psychological illness or disability or due to age, or you have a German school, college or university degree or you entered the
