Sachverhalt

Hinweise

Unemployed persons pursuant to Section 16 of the German Social Code III are persons who, as in the case of entitlement to unemployment benefit

- are temporarily not in employment,
- are seeking employment subject to compulsory insurance and are available to the placement efforts of the employment agency and
- have registered as unemployed with the Employment Agency.

Please note: Participants in active labour market policy measures are not considered unemployed.

Employees at risk of unemployment according to § 17 of the Social Security Code III are persons who

- are employed and subject to compulsory insurance,
- must expect to end their employment in the near future and
- are likely to become unemployed after the end of their employment.

Criteria such as age, duration of unemployment, lack of training or work experience, health problems and disabilities are taken into account to determine whether there are obstacles to placement, provided they have a negative impact on employability.
