Voraussetzungen	You have committed an administrative offence and in doing so have violated a law that allows you to be punished with a fine, for example: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Saxon Building Code (Sächsische Bauordnung) • Youth Protection Act (Jugendschutzgesetz) • Trade regulations (Gewerbeordnung) • Weapons Act (Waffengesetz) • Saxon Nature Conservation Act (Sächsisches Naturschutzgesetz) • Federal Data Protection Act (Bundesdatenschutzgesetz)
Kosten	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Fine • Fee (depending on the amount of the fine): minimum EUR 20.00, maximum EUR 7,500 • Expenses, e.g. a lump sum of EUR 3.50 for the service of the penalty notice
Verfahrensablauf	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The fine proceedings usually begin with a hearing at which you, as the person affected, can describe your view of what happened. • If the competent authority continues to uphold the accusations after the hearing, you will receive a penalty notice. This will inform you, among other things, about the description of the offence and the amount of the fine. • You can either accept the notice or object to it. Accepting the penalty notice You must pay the total amount of the fine within the period stated in the notice (usually two weeks). Please note the information on bank details and the purpose of payment given in the notice. Appealing against the penalty notice If you do not accept the penalty notice, you can lodge an objection in writing or verbally in writing within two weeks of being served with the notice. The competent penalty authority will then re-examine the facts of the case. If it comes to the conclusion that the case was lawful, the file is handed over to the public prosecutor's office. The district court then decides whether to accept or reject the appeal.

If the objection is not received in time, the penalty notice becomes final and must be paid. Only in justified individual cases can an objection received after this deadline be accepted by the authority.

Ignoring the penalty notice

If you neither pay the fine nor lodge an objection, dunning proceedings will be initiated. This involves additional costs.

If it is evident that you are deliberately trying to evade payment, enforcement detention may be ordered.
