Describe the facts of the case in your complaint and observe the following instructions: • A clear and precise description of the facts is required to process the case, including suitable attachments if necessary. You should submit any missing documents to the Saxon Data Protection Officer quickly and without being asked. • Name the person responsible from your point of view • Explain clearly that the organisation you are complaining about is processing your personal data in such a way that your rights are being violated. • Complaints that do not involve you personally will be processed as a control request for which you will not receive any further information about the procedure. • In the case of complaints, it may be unavoidable to disclose your identity in order to clarify the facts of the case.
