Kosten

variable

Important: Please enquire with your treating medical institution about the amount of the costs you will incur and with your health insurance/benefit centre about possible cost coverage.

Verfahrensablauf

Important: The following timetable must be observed:

1. Have a treatment plan (with cost estimate) drawn up by the treating doctor.
2. Obtain a declaration of assumption of costs or a negative decision from the statutory health insurance company, the Beihilfe/Heilfürsorgestelle or the private health insurance company.
3. Apply for the subsidy for fertility treatment in writing using the forms provided. You can obtain the relevant form online here via Amt24
4. Please complete the application form in full and submit it together with the treatment plan (with cost estimate), the declaration of assumption of costs and the other documents to the responsible office. You will also find a detailed list of all the required documents in the relevant application form. Please coordinate details with the responsible office.
5. After the responsible office has checked your application, you will receive written notification as to whether and to what extent you will receive a subsidy for fertility treatment.

Please note: The actual medical treatment can only begin once you have received a positive notification (approval notice) in writing that a grant has been awarded. This means that the treatment contract can be concluded or the patient declaration between the patient and doctor can be submitted or prescriptions issued as part of the treatment can be redeemed at
