Volltext	Determining the suitability of a training centre for vocational training in accordance with Section 27 of the Vocational Training Act (BBiG) If you would like to provide training in your company, the competent authority, for example the Industrie- und Handelskammer (IHK), will advise and support you. If your company wants to provide training for the first time, the suitability will be checked on site. The training advisors will also inform all those involved in the vocational training programme about the content requirements of dual vocational training. If your company is unable to provide the required vocational skills, knowledge and abilities in full on site, you may be able to compensate for this with training measures outside the company. Even after the initial assessment, the counsellors regularly visit the companies and business premises in their region to support and advise you on proper training. Note: Depending on the region, one of the offices of the Industrie- und Handelskammern (IHK) in Saxony is responsible for the aptitude test.
