Volltext	With a mining permit, you are the only person allowed to explore for and mine certain mineral resources within a defined area. Permits are issued for a limited period of time. You can have this permit extended if the permit period expires in the foreseeable future and the deposit is not yet exhausted. To do so, you have to submit an application to the competent mining authority and specify, among other things, a date when the deposit is expected to be exhausted.
Erforderliche Unterlagen	Applications for the extension of a permit must meet the same requirements as applications for the granting of a permit. However, these applications are not as extensive as new applications, since, for example, the technical extractability and also the discovery point have already been proven in the new application. For extensions of a permit, the most important thing is to prove that the deposit has not yet been exhausted. As a rule, this is necessary: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Extension application
