taught. The competent body will also take your professional experience, your other certificates of competence and your other qualifications into account when assessing equivalence.

If your professional qualification and the professional qualification in the selected federal state are equivalent, you will receive recognition.

Sometimes there are significant differences between the professional qualifications. If there are significant differences, you can usually take a compensatory measure.

There are various compensation measures:

- Adaptation course: you work as a teacher and may be doing additional training. This means, for example, that you take part in courses at a university.
- Aptitude test: You take teaching tests and oral examinations. A teaching sample means that you conduct lessons with pupils. Examiners observe and assess your lessons. The responsible office will inform you about the necessary teaching samples and examinations.

You can usually choose between an adaptation period or an aptitude test. Sometimes the competent body decides which compensatory measure you should take. The responsible office will inform you.

If you successfully complete the compensation measure, you will receive recognition.

With this recognition, you can apply for the teaching profession in your federal state. apply. This is a separate procedure. The other requirements for the so-called teaching qualification are then checked.

If you meet all the requirements, you will be awarded the teaching qualification. The teaching qualification is always valid for the teaching position you have applied

**Partial professional access for professional qualifications from the EU, the EEA or Switzerland:****
Your professional qualification is not equivalent and there are many significant differences? In some federal states, you may be able to work in the profession with partial access to the profession. With partial access to the profession, you can also work in the profession without recognition. There are certain requirements for this. As a teacher, you are then only allowed to take on certain tasks. You apply for partial access to the profession at the competent authority. The competent authority will inform you.

**Equivalence with the 1st state examination****
In most federal states, you can have your professional qualification compared with the German teaching degree (1st state examination). If your professional qualification is equivalent to the 1st state examination, then you can be admitted to the preparatory service or a lateral entry course, for example. The responsible office will inform you.

The preparatory service is the pedagogical-practical training. This training concludes with the 2nd state examination. The practical training is also called: Referendariat.

If you successfully complete the preparatory service, you can apply to teach at state schools. You have the same professional rights as a person with a German professional qualification.

Rechtsbehelf

You can take legal action against the decision of the competent authority. The decision will then be reviewed. Details of this procedure can be found in the information on legal remedies at the end of your decision. We recommend that you first speak to the responsible office before taking legal action against the decision.
