Support program for the desire to have children

The Saarland offers financial support for involuntary childlessness with the fertility treatment support program. Here you can find out all about the requirements and how to apply.

Funding for fertility treatment - help and support for involuntary childlessness

The desire to have a child together is of particular importance for the relationship of many couples. If the wish cannot be fulfilled naturally, assisted reproduction measures, so-called fertility treatments, can be a solution. However, the costs of the often lengthy and expensive reproductive medical treatments represent a considerable burden for many couples and may even be unaffordable for some couples.

Funding can be provided in the form of a subsidy on the personal contribution to reproductive medical treatment, which is otherwise not covered by other service providers such as health insurance companies, supplementary insurance, etc. The maximum funding amounts are currently up to €500 of the co-payment, depending on the conditions.

You can find out how to apply for funding for your own contribution, what requirements you need to meet and what you need to bear in mind here on our website.

We have important information for you!

Since 01.01.2022, the Saarland has been funding fertility treatments from state funds together with funds from the Federal Ministry for Family Affairs, Senior Citizens, Women and Youth with a subsidy within the available budget.
