| Teaser                        | If the requirements for entry in the register of craftsmen or the register of proprietors of a craft or craft-like trade not requiring a license are not (or no longer) met and the HWK becomes aware of this, the deletion is carried out ex officio.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Volltext                      | Businesses in trades requiring a license, trades not requiring a license and trades similar to trades are legally required to be members of their respective Chamber of Skilled Crafts, where they are entered either in the Register of Skilled Crafts or in the register of owners of a business in a trade not requiring a license or a trade similar to a trade. If the registration requirements were not met or have subsequently ceased to apply and the Chamber of Skilled Crafts becomes aware of these circumstances, the business will be deleted ex officio. Prior to this, the business is regularly given the opportunity to comment on the intended deletion. Membership of the Chamber of Skilled Crafts also expires upon deletion. If a skilled crafts business subject to licensing is deleted from the register of skilled crafts businesses, the skilled crafts card must be returned to the Chamber of Skilled Crafts. |
