Volltext	In order to protect and promote the health of children and adolescents, the responsible authorities perform school medical duties in accordance with the provisions of school law. They carry out the necessary examinations for the early detection of diseases, disabilities, developmental and behavioral disorders in children and adolescents, determine the vaccination status and provide treatment and care services. This also includes the implementation of measures for the detection and prevention of dental diseases (group prophylaxis), in particular through regular examinations to detect dental, oral and jaw diseases in daycare centers and schools. The aim is to protect and promote the health of children and young people. The tasks include • School entry examinations, • Information, advice and education on health hazards and health-promoting behavior, • carrying out vaccination advice and vaccination campaigns, • individual counseling for pupils and teachers, • counseling for the disabled and • health reporting.
Erforderliche Unterlagen	• Yellow prevention booklet, • vaccination card, • medical history sheet, • glasses or • medical aids. Further documents may be required. Detailed
