Modul

Sachverhalt

Act and the competent benefits authority has requested you to attend an integration course.

There is no entitlement to participate

- children, adolescents and young adults who are taking up school education or continuing their previous school career in Germany,
- if there is a recognisably low need for integration or
- if they have sufficient knowledge of the German language.

Foreigners are exempt from the obligation to attend,

- who are undergoing vocational or other training in the Federal territory,
- who provide evidence of participation in comparable educational programmes in the Federal territory,
- whose participation is permanently impossible or unreasonable, or
- who already have a long-term residence permit from another EU member state and have taken part in integration measures there.

Attention: Violation of the obligation to participate can lead to the refusal of the extension of a residence permit or to the refusal of a settlement permit.

If you receive benefits according to the Second Book of the Social Code, your benefits may be reduced by up to 30 per cent. In addition, the Foreigners' Registration Office is entitled to charge you the expected contribution to the costs of the course ahead of time.
