Volltext	You will receive the residence permit as a cheque card with additional electronic functions. Babies and children also receive their own card. The eAT has a contactless chip inside the card. It stores • biometric features (photo, two fingerprints from the age of six), • Ancillary provisions in connection with the residence permit (e.g. conditions) and • personal data. The card offers you the following additional functions • electronic proof of identity and • a qualified electronic signature (electronic signature function).
