year. These driving licences are mainly required in Asian countries. An expired International Driving Licence cannot be renewed.

The driving licence authorities must inform the Federal Motor Transport Authority that your International Driving Licence has been issued. This information is stored together with the driving licence number of your driving licence card in the Central Driving Licence Register/driving licence register. If you still have a paper driving licence, you must have it converted to a card driving licence.

Erforderliche Unterlagen

- Identity card or passport
- biometric passport photo
- EU driving licence in cheque card format: If you still have an old driving licence in paper format, you must exchange it for a cheque card driving licence.

Voraussetzungen

- Minimum age: 18 years
- EU or EEA driving licence or a foreign permit to drive motor vehicles
- Residence in Germany for at least 185 days a year or residence in a country that is not a party to the Convention on Road Traffic of 8 November 1968

Kosten

- for the international driving licence depending on the city or district: 12.20 - 16.30 EUR
- when exchanging the previous driving licence for the card driving licence: an additional EUR 26.50

The extract from the local driving licence register, known as a card copy, costs you nothing.

Verfahrensablauf

You must apply for an International Driving Licence at the driving licence office in your place of residence. It is not necessary to apply in person. The driving licence can also be collected by an authorised person using a written power of attorney. The application is submitted to the driving licence office in your place of residence in writing or, if offered by the competent authority, as an online application. If you apply in writing, you will receive the application form from the driving licence office. You can also submit the written application including the required evidence and documents there.
