Note: If you employ a second person as a business manager, you must also submit the company management declaration and proof of management activities for this person.

Voraussetzungen

- The master examination If you or your business manager have successfully passed the master examination in a craft which requires a permit, you will be entered in the register of craftsmen of your chamber of crafts: with the craft which you wish to practise or in a craft which requires a permit which is related to this.

The Crafts Ordinance also provides for conditions, in accordance with which you or your company management as

- graduate in Engineering
- or engineer
- can be entered in the register of craftsmen with a German state or state recognised examination which is equivalent to the master examination (§ 7 Paragraph 2 HwO).

The requirement is that the focus of study of your examination corresponds to the craft to be entered.

Please note: You may only practise the craft which requires a permit which has been entered. Should more than one craft which requires a permit be practised, normally each of these must be entered in the register of craftsmen.

Kosten

Various costs can be incurred. Please make enquiries at the competent chamber of crafts.

Verfahrensablauf

In order to have your company entered in the register of craftsmen, you must make an application. In accordance with what is offered by the chambers of crafts, the application form is available for electronic downloading or can be filled in directly via a form centre. You can also hand in your documents personally and fill in the application on site.

The issuing of a craft card is connected to the entry in the register of craftsmen. With the trade card, you can subsequently identify yourself as a registered craft business.
