- the local court in whose district the child usually resides or
- the family court dealing with the ongoing divorce proceedings.

Note: The application is filed either in the child's own name or in the name of the child as its legal representative.

The court sends the application to the other parent. This parent is given the opportunity to comment.

Note: However, up to the limit of the minimum maintenance, a minor child does not have to prove his or her need or the ability of the debtor to pay maintenance.

The family court sets a maintenance amount based on the parents' income and the age of the child. This is done by means of an order. The parent entitled to maintenance receives an enforcement order as a result of this order.
