muzzle loading

- Firecracker powder for firing firecrackers
- Nitrocellulose powder or other propellant powders for reloading cartridge cases
- Rocket motors of category P2 in model rocket construction
- Fireworks of category F3 and F4 for private purposes
- Use of other pyrotechnic articles of category P2

The official licence ensures that only those persons who meet the requirements for safe handling have access to explosive substances.

Erforderliche Unterlagen

The following information and supporting documents are required to apply for a licence:

- Details of the applicant, identity card
- Information on the storage of the explosive substances
- Details of the intended activity
- Proof of specialised knowledge: Proof of successful completion of a specialised training course for the planned activity
- Proof of need: hunting licence or gun ownership card (for reloaders) or membership certificate of the association for firearm and muzzle loader shooters or model rocket builders
- for the verification of the good reputation of persons from another EU Member State: submission of a certificate in the form of a certified translation from the competent judicial or administrative authority of the home country or country of origin regarding certain facts that are relevant for the assessment of good reputation. For example, an extract from the criminal record. The certificate should not be older than three months. Otherwise, only those facts that have been confirmed by the competent authority of the home country or country of origin may be regarded as proven.

Voraussetzungen

In order to obtain a licence to handle explosive substances, you must meet the following requirements:

- You must be reliable. The required reliability is non-commercial purchase and handling of explosive substances, the competent authority will review your application and request additional documents if necessary. Depending on the services offered by the competent authority, you may be provided with a form or an online process. You may also have to visit the competent authority in person.

Bearbeitungsdauer
Frist

The application must be submitted before the acquisition and handling of explosive substances. You may only acquire and handle the explosive substances specified in the licence after it has been issued. An extension of an existing licence must be applied for in good time before the expiry date.

weiterführende Informationen
Hinweise

The licence is generally granted for a period of five years. It may be restricted in terms of content and location and may be subject to conditions if this is necessary to prevent danger to life, health or property or significant disadvantages or considerable nuisance to third parties. The subsequent addition, amendment and supplementation of conditions is permitted.

You do not require a permit for handling fireworks for theatre and stage of category T1, pyrotechnic articles of category P1 and fireworks of category F1. Observe the manufacturer's instructions for use when handling without a licence.

The supply of category F2 fireworks ("New Year's Eve fireworks") to consumers (without a licence) is restricted to the last three working days of the year. Use by consumers (without a permit) is only permitted on 31 December and 1 January of each year.
