Volltext	An additional permit (driving license for passenger transport) is required if you drive an ambulance if passengers are transported in the vehicle for a fee or for business purposes, or if you drive a motor vehicle if passengers are transported in the vehicle and a permit is required for this transport in accordance with the Passenger Transport Act. If you wish to drive cabs, hire cars, ambulances for the paid transportation of passengers or drive passenger vehicles on scheduled services and for excursions and vacation destination trips, you will need a separate passenger transport driving license in addition to your driving license. The driving license for passenger transport is issued for a period of no more than five years. It can be extended for up to five years at the holder's request if he/she can prove his/her mental and physical aptitude in accordance with Section 11 (9) FeV in conjunction with Annex 5 to the FeV by means of an expert opinion when the license is first issued. The expert opinion must be provided in accordance with the principles set out in Annex 4a FeV by submitting a company or occupational medical report in accordance with Section 11 (2) sentence 3 no. 3 FeV or an expert opinion from an officially recognized assessment body for driving aptitude. The expert opinion does not have to be repeated for every five-year extension of the driving license. For extensions beyond the age of 60, a current company or occupational medical report or an expert opinion from an officially recognized assessment body for driving fitness must be provided. Furthermore, he must prove that he meets the requirements for eyesight in accordance with § 12 Paragraph 6 FeV in conjunction with Annex 6 Number 2 to the FeV and that there is nothing against him that indicates that he does not meet the special responsibility of transporting passengers (by submitting a certificate of good conduct and information from the driving aptitude register). Likewise, there must be no fines for violations of the BOKraft or the Passenger Transportation Act.

A driving license for passenger transport, on the other hand, is not required for

- ambulances of the Federal Armed Forces, the Federal Border Guard, the police and for troops and civilian entourages of other NATO member states
- Civil protection ambulances if they are used for this purpose
- ambulances of fire departments and rescue services recognized under state law
- motor vehicles, with the exception of cabs or hire cars, if the driver is in possession of category D or D1
- Transportation listed in the exemption regulation.

Erforderliche Unterlagen

- Valid identity card or valid passport with current registration certificate,
  - Proof of previous domestic driving license (driver's license); if necessary, an application must be made to exchange it for an EU driving license
