Teaser	If your (building) project deviates from building regulations, you must apply for approval of the deviation. This also applies to deviations from regulations that are not examined in the planning permission procedure.
Volltext	If your (building) project deviates from building regulations (e.g. from the provisions of a development plan, an urban development statute or the building use regulations), you must apply separately for approval of the deviation and justify it. This applies to projects that require planning permission, projects that do not require planning permission and projects that do not require planning permission. Even if the regulations that are to be deviated from are not examined in the approval procedure, approval must still be applied for. The competent authority can then grant you approval for a deviation, exception or exemption under certain conditions. statutes or from regulations of the Land Use Ordinance) may be permitted if it is expressly provided for in terms of type and scope (exception from building regulations).

Sachverhalt

An exemption from building regulations (provisions of a development plan or other urban development statutes or from regulations of the Land Use Ordinance) may be permitted if it does not affect the main features of the planning and is also compatible with public interests when neighboring interests are taken into account and:

- reasons of public welfare, including the housing needs of the population and the need to accommodate refugees or asylum seekers, require the exemption or
- the deviation is justifiable in terms of urban development or
- the implementation of the development plan would lead to an obviously unintended hardship.

Kosten

- Fee range for the approval of a deviation from a provision of the building code: EUR 50.00 - EUR 5,420.00
- Fee range for the approval of an exception or exemption according to § 31 or § 34 paragraph 2 half-sentence 2 of the Building Code: EUR 65.00 - 2,910.00

Verfahrensablauf

Apply separately to the competent authority for approval of the deviation, even if a building permit procedure is being carried out, and state the reasons for the deviation in the application.

The building supervisory authority or the municipality will check whether the requirements for approval of the deviation, exemption or exception are met and, if necessary, involve other authorities and the neighbors. You will then receive a decision as to whether the deviation is approved or rejected.
