Volltext	Sidewalk crossings, also known as driveways or curb cuts, are used to provide easy access to a property from the street for vehicles. If you are planning such a project for which the kerb needs to be lowered, you will need a permit for the sidewalk crossing. Existing footpath crossings can also be modified. You can apply to change a footpath crossing. Access roads to properties, whether they are constructed or modified, require a different construction or paving than the sidewalk and must be approved by the responsible authority. As a rule, work on public roads is commissioned by the city. In exceptional cases, you as the applicant may commission the work yourself from an approved specialist company.

Hinweise

- Only the change is applied for, the previous permission for a footpath crossing is still valid.
  - The sidewalk crossing itself may not be altered, for example with wooden beams, steel ramps or similar. This is an unauthorized intervention in the road space and may be punishable by law.
  - Permission to alter a footpath crossing does not replace other official approvals required or entitle the holder to claims arising from them, for example for the construction of a garage or a carport.

Rechtsbehelf

- Objection
  - Further information on how to lodge an objection can be found in the notification of your application.
  - Appeal to the administrative court
