pharmacists. You can find out whether your profession is regulated in Germany, which laws regulate it and which body you need to contact to check your qualifications in the information portal "Recognition in Germany".

Qualification measures include adaptation and compensation measures in theoretical and practical form (internships in companies, theoretical courses, mixed forms), preparatory courses for examinations and language courses.

In addition to completing a qualification measure, you can also pursue employment without time restrictions if the intended activity during the recognition procedure is related to the professional knowledge required in the subsequent employment. Such a connection exists, for example, if you want to have your foreign medical training recognized and already want to work as a nursing assistant during the qualification measure or if you already want to work as a bricklayer or as a construction assistant during the qualification measure to become a bricklayer.

For regulated professions, a license to practice the profession must have been granted or approved. The permit to practice the profession includes the authorization to practice the profession under professional law and the granting of permission to use the professional title.

The residence permit to carry out a qualification measure with employment is a temporary residence permit. It is issued for the duration of the qualification measure, but for a maximum of 18 months.
