inheritance

In principle, the inheritance can no longer be waived once the heir has accepted the inheritance. In other words, he/she has shown by his/her conduct that he/she accepts his/her position as successor to the deceased. If the heir did not know that the estate was overindebted, he/she may be able to contest the acceptance of the inheritance. The contestation is subject to a time and form limit (6 weeks, declaration to the probate court or the notary). The effective contestation removes the legal consequences of the previous waiver or acceptance. Due to the complicated legal issues involved, it is often advisable to seek legal advice in good time.
