Verfahrensablauf

Submission

- The party declares in writing that it will participate in the election and submits the required documents in full.
- The Land returning officer notes the date of receipt on each notification of participation and immediately checks whether it meets the requirements of the law (preliminary examination).

Correction of deficiencies

- If the provincial election management body identifies any deficiencies, it shall immediately notify the party executive committee and request it to rectify any remediable deficiencies in good time.
- After the decision of the state election committee on the determination of party status, any rectification of defects is excluded.

Examination and approval

- The Land electoral administration shall summon the parties that have notified their participation in the election to the meeting at which a decision is made on their recognition as a party for the election. It submits the notifications of participation to the State Electoral Committee and reports on the result of the preliminary examination.
- Before the resolution is passed, the parties involved shall be given the opportunity to make a statement.
- The state electoral committee makes a binding decision for all electoral bodies, which parties are represented in parliament, the parties for which the Federal Electoral Committee determined party status
