Sachverhalt

- theft
- illegibility.

If the operating license has been stolen, you must report this to the police. If you lose the operating license or it has been destroyed, the registration office may require you to make a declaration in lieu of an oath that your statements are correct.

If you have an unregistered vehicle that belongs to a type approved by the European Union (EU) and whose technical data is no longer available, you must apply for a replacement operating permit from the registration office. This requires an expert opinion from an officially recognized expert or a technical service designated to test complete vehicles of the respective vehicle class.

If the manufacturer no longer exists or the vehicle does not have type approval, you must submit an expert opinion from an officially recognized expert or a technical service designated to test complete vehicles of the respective vehicle class. You can use the certificate to apply for a replacement type approval at the registration office.

Erforderliche Unterlagen

- valid identity card or passport
- for commercially used vehicles: additional proof of ownership
- in the event of loss: Declaration of loss or affidavit or police report of loss ID document of the person(s) responsible Possibly a confirmation from the vehicle owner in the event of loss by associations/companies: extract from the commercial register, business registration, extract from the register of associations
- In the event of theft: confirmation from the police that the theft has been reported
- If applicable, expert opinion according to § 21 StVZO

Voraussetzungen

Kosten

Verfahrensablauf

You must apply for a new operating license at your responsible registration authority.

Modul
Sachverhalt

- If the technical data for the vehicle is stored at the registration office, a replacement document can be issued immediately.
- If the technical data for the vehicle is not stored, you must apply for a clearance certificate from the registration office. The clearance certificate must then be submitted to the manufacturer, who can issue a replacement type approval.
- If the manufacturer no longer exists or the vehicle does not have EU type approval, the clearance certificate must be submitted to a testing organization. The testing organization will issue a technical report. The registration office can issue the replacement type approval on the basis of the test organization's report.
