Teaser	If you wish to withdraw or discharge water from surface waters, you can apply for a water permit from the relevant water authority.
Volltext	If you want to extract water from an above-ground body of water - i.e. from a river, lake, canal, stream, ditch or pond - you need a permit or authorization under water law. A permit is normally applied for. In justified exceptional cases, you can also apply for a permit instead. A permit grants you the right to use surface waters. Unlike a permit, an authorization cannot be revoked by the authorities at any time, but only to a limited extent. In addition, a permit protects you from third-party claims under civil law. The permit specifies the purpose, type and extent of use. It may be linked to conditions and ancillary provisions.
Erforderliche Unterlagen	In your application for a permit, please provide the following information, among others: • Reasons why a secure legal status is necessary for your project • Explanation of the purpose and plan of your project The documents you need for your application will vary depending on the type and scope of your project. In a preliminary discussion with the responsible water authority, you can clarify which documents are required in your case.

Modul
Sachverhalt

As a rule, several or all of the following documents are required:

- Project description with hydraulic calculation of the extraction quantities and description of the extraction systems (e.g. pump system and transport system)
- Site plan of the extraction point(s) and, if applicable, discharge point(s)
- Information on the purpose and duration of the water withdrawal

Optional:

- Hydrological report (effects of the water abstraction)
- Proof of maintenance of the minimum water flow
- Documents for the preliminary EIA assessment
- Technical contribution according to WFD
- Statement from the person responsible for maintenance/water and soil association for the abstraction water body
- Consent of the water body owner; in the case of federal waterways, possibly also a river and shipping police permit

Voraussetzungen

Your project is not reasonable without the secure legal status of a permit. For example, a company wishing to extract drinking water and build the necessary facilities can apply for a permit.

Your use will not endanger the abstraction waters, adjacent waters and the terrestrial ecosystems and wetlands that depend on them, or the public water supply.

Kosten

Verwaltungsgebühr: 70€ - 30.000€
 Additional fees may be incurred if conditions and orders are issued by the water authority.

Verfahrensablauf	You can apply for a permit from your local water authority. The general procedure is as follows: • Send your application for a permit with the required documents to the responsible water authority. • The responsible water authority • checks that your application and documents are complete and contacts you if any information or documents are missing, • examines your application from a water management and water law perspective and, if necessary, involves other authorities, • carries out a preliminary environmental impact assessment and publishes the results. • If necessary, affected parties will be involved as part of a public participation process. • You will receive • an authorization or • a notice of refusal. • You will also receive a fee notice. • You pay the fee.
Bearbeitungsdauer	The processing time depends in particular on the quality and scope of the application and the documents.
Frist	10 Jahr(e) 1 Monat(e) Apply for approval in good time before starting your project.
