weiterführende Informationen
Hinweise

There is further guidance:

The required traffic signs must be erected at least three days prior to the effective date of the stop. The traffic signs may only be erected after the permit has been obtained.

The registration numbers of all vehicles properly parked there at that time must be recorded in writing. If, on the day of the move, vehicles are parked in the no-stopping zone despite the erection of traffic signs and are obstructing the move, you may have the vehicles towed away. The vehicle owners must bear the towing costs. If the 3-day deadline is not met, necessary towing measures are carried out at the expense of the permit holder according to established case law.

The traffic signs may only be erected after receipt of the traffic law order and only by persons who have the proof according to MVAS 99.

Only traffic signs in accordance with the Road Traffic

Modul

Sachverhalt

Regulations (StVO) may be erected.

Additional measures must be specified in the application; additional permits may be required for this purpose (for example, in the case of containers, an extra special use application and additional measures for traffic safety).

For the move-in location and the move-out location, you will need a separate order in each case.

It is prohibited to block off a parking space with leashes, tapes, boxes or chairs. Other people looking for parking can and may move these obstructions aside and park. The police also intervene when such barriers are detected. A warning or fine is then often levied.

After the removal or delivery, the traffic signs erected must be removed immediately or rendered ineffective.
