If young people become delinquent, the youth court assistance of the youth welfare office can be called upon.

Volltext

If young people between the ages of 14 and 18 or young adults up to the age of 21 come into conflict with the law, they and their parents can turn to the youth court assistance service.

Youth court assistance is one of the statutory duties of the youth welfare office. It is involved in the entire juvenile court proceedings. It accompanies the young offenders, but also supports the juvenile courts and the juvenile prosecutor's office with reports, opinions and decision-making aids. The personal life situation of the young person is at the forefront of all considerations.

Tasks of juvenile court assistance:

The many and varied tasks of juvenile court assistance include in particular
