Sachverhalt

Prisoner Assistance Act is submitted and the applicant lives in Thuringia.

Affected persons who have suffered damage to their health as a result of being deprived of their liberty in violation of the rule of law will, upon application, receive care in accordance with the Fourteenth Book of the Social Security Code due to the health and economic consequences of this damage. The pension can be paid in the form of a monthly pension.

Rehabilitation under the Occupational Rehabilitation Act:

According to the Occupational Rehabilitation Act, those affected who were subjected to occupational disadvantages in the former GDR as a result of unjustly suffered imprisonment as well as without being imprisoned can apply for occupational rehabilitation in order to obtain subsequent claims, primarily in the form of compensation for disadvantages in pension insurance.

Further subsequent claims for professional rehabilitation can be compensation for particular impairment of the economic situation and preferential professional training and retraining.

Rehabilitation under the Administrative Rehabilitation Act:

According to the Administrative Rehabilitation Act, those affected by measures of the GDR authorities that were fundamentally contrary to the rule of law, insofar as these have led to damage to health, encroachment on assets and/or occupation and the consequences of this still have a direct, severe and unreasonable impact today, can apply for the annulment or determination that these measures were contrary to the rule of law in order to justify subsequent claims.

Affected persons who have suffered damage to their health as a result of measures contrary to the rule of law can also apply for benefits under the Fourteenth Book of the Social Code.
