Teaser	Employers who are obliged to pay a compensatory levy if they do not comply with an obligation to employ people with disabilities.
Volltext	Private and public employers who have an annual average of at least 20 jobs per month must employ severely disabled people in at least 5 percent of their jobs. Note: As it is the total number of jobs available that counts, an employer with several parts of the business (e.g. branches), each of which has fewer jobs, but together have more than 20 jobs, is also obliged to employ people. As long as your company does not fulfill this mandatory quota, you must pay a so-called equalization levy for each unfilled mandatory position. This is staggered according to the degree of fulfillment; there are exceptions for small companies that are obliged to employ. The Integration Office is responsible for collecting this equalization levy.
Erforderliche Unterlagen	The following must be reported

Modul

Sachverhalt

- the number of jobs (separately for each company and each department)
- the number of severely disabled and equivalent persons employed in the individual companies as well as other eligible persons
- multiple offsetting (under certain conditions, the employer may offset one severely disabled employee against 2 or 3 compulsory places when assessing the compensatory levy)
- the total amount of the equalization levy owed

Voraussetzungen

The employer

- has an annual average of at least 20 jobs
- does not employ severely disabled people in at least 5 percent of jobs

The compensatory levy to be paid per month and unfilled compulsory place is currently

- 125.00 euros for an annual average employment rate of 3 percent to less than the applicable mandatory rate (currently 5 percent)
- 220.00 euros for an annual average employment rate of 2 percent to less than 3 percent
- 320.00 euros for an annual average employment rate of less than 2 percent

There is some relief for smaller companies and departments with regard to the amount of the equalization levy:

- Employers with an annual average of less than 40 jobs must employ one severely disabled person - they only pay 125.00 euros per month if they do not fill this mandatory position.
- Employers with an annual average of less than 60 jobs must fill 2 compulsory places - they pay 125 euros if they only fill one compulsory place and 220.00 euros if they do not employ a severely disabled person.

Hinweise	Employers who are obliged to pay the equalization levy can also fulfil their payment obligation in whole or in part by placing orders with recognized workshops for the disabled or workshops for the blind. 50 percent of the amount invoiced for the work performed by the workshop (total invoice amount less material costs) can be offset against the compensatory levy to be paid in each case. This takes into account the work performed by specialist staff to promote employment and vocational training, but not the work performed by other non-disabled employees. https://www.rehadat-wfbm.de/de/hilfe/index.html https://www.rehadat.de/de/ https://www.rehadat-wfbm.de/de/hilfe/index.html https://www.rehadat.de/de/
