Teaser	People with health insurance are entitled to a supply of pharmacy-only medicines and bandages.
Volltext	Persons insured under the statutory health insurance scheme are entitled to a supply of pharmacy-only medicines and dressings. The costs are covered by the health insurance companies. Exception: For insured persons over the age of 18, the costs of so-called petty medicines are not covered. These include • Medicines for the treatment of colds and flu-like infections • Mouth and throat remedies (except for fungal infections), • laxatives • medicines for travel sickness. The costs of medicines that you can buy without a prescription are generally not covered. Exception: • Medicines that are standard treatment for serious illnesses and are prescribed by a doctor. The choice of prescribed drugs may be restricted by discount agreements between the health insurance funds and manufacturers. However, these drugs are then also free of co-payment.
