Modul

Sachverhalt

- a) support the beneficiaries in the household - in particular with domestic care
- b) accompany the beneficiaries in coping with the general or care-related demands of everyday life
- c) support the beneficiaries in the independent organization of individually required assistance services,
- d) relieve relatives or similarly close persons in their capacity as caregivers.

If you would like to offer a support service in everyday life, you will need recognition under federal state law. Each federal state has a competent authority that is responsible for the recognition procedure.

You can find more information on the relevant state websites.

The requirements for recognition are regulated on a state-specific basis.

_Further information for Rhineland-Palatinate can be found on the homepage of the Supervisory and Service Directorate Trier (ADD)._

Erforderliche Unterlagen

The list of required documents differs from state to state

_In Rhineland-Palatinate, the following must be submitted to the competent authority_
