Teaser	Foreign, minor and unmarried children with a residence permit for family reunification with a German parent can receive an extension of the residence permit as long as the family partnership continues.
Volltext	As a legal representative, you can apply for the extension of the residence permit for a foreign minor single child so that the child can continue to live with you in Germany. Please note that your child must not be married, divorced or widowed. Minor means that he has not yet reached the age of 18. The establishment of a family partnership between you and the child is a prerequisite for obtaining a residence permit. This must be intentional and actually possible. If you as a parent have personal custody, the intention and possibility of establishing the family cohabitation can usually be assumed. However, it is not necessarily necessary that you are entitled to exercise personal care. However, paternity or motherhood to the minor child must be proven.

If only the father is German, there must be a recognition of paternity that can be assessed as effective.

If the child has already been in possession of a residence permit for three years, the application for a settlement permit can be considered.

If the child has now reached the age of 18, the child can receive an independent right of residence independent of family reunification.

Erforderliche Unterlagen

- Recognised and valid identity document (e.g. passport or passport replacement) of the child and the German parent
 - Current biometric photo of the child in passport format (45 x 35 mm)
 - Proof of recognition of paternity if parents are not married and reunification with the German father is to take place.
 - If a parent with custody remains abroad:
 - proof of custody,
 - Declaration of consent of the parent living abroad.
 - The documents and information must always be presented in German. In individual cases, the Foreigners' Registration Office may require less or more evidence.

Voraussetzungen

- A parent with custody has German citizenship.
 - The child has a valid identity document.
 - The child is a minor, neither married, divorced nor widowed at the time of application.
 - The German parent has his habitual residence in Germany.
 - The German parent is still actually and legally willing and able to maintain a family partnership with the child. This is assumed if personal custody of the child continues. However, personal custody is not a prerequisite for the extension of the residence permit.
