market value appraisal. This determination can be requested from the local appraisal committee. In addition, the determination is also offered by private experts.

The market value is synonymous with the market value. It is the price that could be obtained in the ordinary course of business at the time to which the appraisal relates, based on the legal circumstances and actual characteristics, other features and location of the property or other object of the appraisal, without regard to unusual or personal circumstances.

The provision of expert opinions on the market value is the task of the expert committees. The committee is basically autonomous and independent. A committee is responsible for one area at a time (for example, for a county or an independent city). The members are members of public authorities as well as honorary appraisers (such as architects, structural engineers, civil engineers, tax consultants, etc.).

If you would like to know the value of an undeveloped or developed property or the value of rights to a property, you can have this determined with a market value appraisal. This assessment can be requested from the local expert committee. Private experts also offer this service.
