Teaser	If you want to offer low-threshold care services to people in need of care, you must first have them recognized. The application for the recognition of offers according to § 45a SGB XI is made individually in the federal state in which the offer is made.
Volltext	According to § 45b SGB XI, people in need of care in home care are entitled to a relief amount of up to 125 euros per month. Among other things, you can use it for services of the offers for support in everyday life. This includes care, supervision and everyday support for those in need of care, care support and relief for relatives as well as housekeeping services in the immediate vicinity of those in need of care. In this way, people in need of care as well as relatives are to be supported and relieved in coping with their everyday lives in the context of care. The relief amount is not paid out to those in need of care, but is reimbursed by the long-term care insurance funds against the submission of invoices for care services actually used.

Modul

Sachverhalt

Long-term care insurance funds only settle the relief amount with providers who receive recognition from the state as an offer of support in everyday life or who have a care contract as a care facility or care service with the long-term care insurance fund.

According to state regulations, providers of offers for support in everyday life can receive subsidies, which are granted in equal parts by the state and the associations of long-term care insurance funds.
