Modul

Sachverhalt

- Parental assistance - one person provides support in everyday life.
- Intensive one-to-one socio-educational support to help them overcome most personal crises and increasingly solve problems themselves.
- Home education - care in a facility outside the parental home
- Assisted living - the path to an independent life within your own four walls
- Integration assistance for young adults with an (impending) mental disability.

Young people who have already received help from the youth welfare office before they reach the age of majority and would like to continue receiving this help must apply for help for young adults themselves. Previously, the legal guardians (parents or guardians) were entitled to claim.

Erforderliche Unterlagen

- ID card

Voraussetzungen

- They are between 18 and 21 years old. In justified individual cases, assistance can also be granted up to the age of 27 if assistance has already been started before then.
- Due to your personal development, you are unable to lead a self-determined, independent and autonomous life.
- Help is suitable and necessary. The youth welfare office will check this.
- If you have an (impending) mental disability, you will need a specialist medical opinion if you wish to apply for integration assistance for young adults. The youth welfare office can obtain this with your consent.

Kosten

Help for young adults in outpatient form is free of charge. Outpatient means that you live with your parents or in your own home.

In the case of inpatient assistance for young adults, you must make a reasonable contribution to the costs if you have an income or assets. Inpatient means that you live in a home or other form of assisted living.
