Teaser	Have you completed further training to become a specialist pharmacist abroad? Then you can apply for recognition as a specialist pharmacist in Germany under certain conditions.
Volltext	The term specialist pharmacist is regulated in Germany. This means that you need a permit if you want to use the title "specialist pharmacist" for your specialisation in the selected federal state. With further training as a specialist pharmacist, you have acquired a pharmaceutical specialisation in addition to your qualification as a pharmacist abroad. To work as a pharmacist in Germany, you first need a license to practice medicine or a professional license. In order to be able to work as a specialist pharmacist in Germany, you must also apply for recognition of your further training as a specialist pharmacist. This allows responsible State Chamber of Pharmacists:

- First, submit your application and the required documents to the Chamber of Pharmacists of the state in which you want to work.
- If necessary, you will be asked to submit missing documents.
- The competent authority will check whether your training is equivalent. The training is equivalent if there are no significant differences between your foreign training and the German continuing education.
- You will receive a notification.

If significant differences are identified, you will not be certified as having the equivalence of your qualification as a specialist pharmacist:

- You will receive a justification.
- If necessary, conditions will be imposed. This can be attending seminars, conducting technical discussions with an authorised specialist pharmacist or providing proof of certain practical activities
- You can take an exam to prove the lack of knowledge.
- If you pass the exam successfully, you will receive recognition. You may then use the title "specialist pharmacist" for your specialisation.

You can take legal action against the decision of the competent authority within a certain period of time (e.g. lodge an appeal). The decision will then be reviewed. Details on this can be found in the information on legal remedies at the end of your decision. It is best to talk to the competent authority first before taking legal action against the decision.
