requires an oath to the effect that translations will be faithful and conscientious. Instead of taking an oath separately for each court hearing, you can take a general oath and refer to it afterwards.

In the case of documents drafted in a foreign language, a court may order the submission of translations whose accuracy and completeness have been certified by an authorised translator.

You have the opportunity to have your suitability determined for the job as:

- Court interpreter
- Interpreter for official and notarial purposes
- Sign language interpreter
- Translator

The general swearing-in of court interpreters will take place from 01.01.2023 in accordance with the Court Interpreters Act (GDolmG). The required language skills must regularly be proven by a state or state-recognised interpreter examination. The general swearing-in as a court interpreter ends after five years, but can be extended repeatedly by five years on request if certain conditions are met.

General swearing-ins issued before 01.01.2023 in accordance with §§ 22 - 31 of the Lower Saxony Justice Act (NJG) continue to apply. In court, interpreters can invoke this general oath until 31.12.2026.

The general swearing-in of interpreters for official and notarial purposes and sign language interpreters as well as the authorisation as a translator for the territory of the state of Lower Saxony is carried out in accordance with §§ 22 - 31 of the Lower Saxony Justice Act (NJG).

The general swearing-in of interpreters and the authorisation of translators to transmit language for judicial, official and notarial purposes for the territory of the State of Lower Saxony is carried out upon
